

I am very troubled by Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to pre-empt prime time programming to air an anti Kerry diatribe. This blatant electioneering by a media giant is against federal election law. Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge and is obligated by law to serve the public interest, not merely the interest of a political party. Sinclair reaches one quarter of the American people. Will they be required to give equal time to a Bush-bashing polemic or a pro-Kerry film?

Sincerely

Lea Bradovich